

Today's meeting was rollicking!

We had 2 really good speech and 1 so-so speech. Mike Lott gave a thought provoking speech entitled "Budgeting Is Not Just For Money". He spoke on the mysteries of time and how we should track our time and budget it to do the things we feel are most important in our life. My so-so speech was titled "A Look Into Our Economic Future" and warned about a possible Great Depression around 2030. Someone was kind enough to take a picture of me during my speech. I probably shouldn't have been eating bananas, but who can resist? Shelley gave a fantastic speech entitled "Wounds". Shelley's speech subject was 'depression', but it was really about 'hope'. It was a great speech and Shelley earned her Competent Communicator designation with that speech. Congrats!

Our evaluators all did a great job. Lynn did hers very enthusiastically!!!

More action pics...

It was amazing. Sara worked her Jedi mind tricks on Mike Lott and got him to volunteer to be Sergeant at Arms. Note to self, never look Sara directly in the eyes.
