
Toastmaster Notes from 7-22-13 meeting

We had a fun meeting today. It was well attended and, as usual, the speeches were excellent.

Today's Toastmaster was the incredibly well dressed Larry. Did you know that Larry is an author? It's true! He's selling his book on Amazon. Here's the link if you would like to buy his book. I was asking him about his book after the meeting and he says that it can be read it in a few hours. That's my kind of book. http://www.amazon.com/Larry-Jones/e/B00DSNU6FU/ref=ntt_athr_dp_pel_pop_1/187-8345723-2613447

Mike's speech, "How the Internet Changed My Life" was a reminder of how important and pervasive that technology is. It was a fun speech to listen to, and it helped the group get to know him better.

Deborah earned her Competent Communicator designation with her speech, "Dream" Deborah hit on the thought that all things are possible. Think big, believe it can happen, and then get to work! Way to go Deborah!

Curtis had the moment of the meeting during his speech. He presented Denise's daughter, Julia, with an award (and a present which was immediately hugged). It was such a great thing to behold. What a great kid! Way to go Curt!

Autumn, Daniel and Lyn were the evaluators. Helpful as always.

John Miller was the Table Topicsmaster. The theme to his questions revolved around travel and where folks would go if they could go anywhere. Judging by Autumn's picture above, she would say "sleep".

Here is next week's schedule. Hope to see your smiling faces there.
